

Abstract : In this paper, luminous intensity during the process of detrapping and recombination was measured at room temperature, and the intensity under different applied fields and time are compared. The sample is a LDPE film with thickness 25  $\mu\text{m}$ , and 30 nm Au is coated on both sides of the film